“I'm so glad your my brother" was the greeting I gave each time I saw him. And he always replied "I'm so glad your my sister". Those words will forever be remembered by me and I was so humbled to be able to care for him and be with him when Jesus took him home. Thank you Cheri and kids for allowing me to be a part of the last days of his life. I love you all and will keep my promise to my brother to be there if you need me. Thank you for loving Darrell in the deepest part of your heart and making the days he walked the earth so sweet. xoxo
