“ Jessica was one of the most kindest, genuine, and loving person that have ever known. Her infectious smile could light up a room and just being in her presence made you feel so special and genuinely love. She spent all that she could during her short time on this earth until her very last breath to ensure that Luke and Lohan had as many memories as possible, and until the very end never stopped fighting for one more day to be with them. I can find comfort in knowing that when I go to the other side, I will once again be able to see her beautiful face again.

Love you always and forever,

Erica

“ I met Jessica in our Sarcoma Alliance Facebook group, she was truly just...an amazing, loving, brave, strong, sweet woman...just a genuine GOOD person. She will be missed dearly in a group and was a comfort, inspiration, friend to a LOT of us. To her family and friends, I am so incredibly sorry, cancer is such a terrible, cruel, unfair disease. I hope you all know that Jessica touched many lives in our Sarcoma group.
