I know you will always watch over our family as you always have. You will always be my brother and friend. Will always cherish our unforgettable memories, all the hourly heart to heart talks we had, how you always complimented me making me feel beautiful. I'll miss you sleeping on couch and me griping ur flattening the cushions and leaving your indention, or coming in my rm and swan diving on wakeing me up, hearing you laugh. I will miss watching the relationship you grew with Joe, the love you both had for ea other. I will miss all the constant smiles, laughter, love between you and Arianna. You have been such a BIG part of her life these past 2 1/2 yrs since her birth. You were the only 1 she would let hold as a baby and run too as she grew. She loves her unc soo much and will know how much you love her. “ I wish I had been able to be there for this day. I am so very, very, sorry that this happened. I cannot tell you how saddened I am for all of us. I am praying that a supernatural peace will be there not just to help you get thru this today but even afterwards. I pray that each and everyone will be able to grieve in their own way so that the weight of this won't be a hindrance in your lives later on. I never had the chance to my remembrance of meeting Justin except by pics but I do believe that he would want his memory to be filled with all the good, the laughter's, the times spent together. The Word says, that to be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord. His body is gone, but his spirit will live on forever-BELIEVE that you will see him again and be with him. I Thank God for the children he has to carry on his heritage, you will always see him thru them . I'm here if needed. I send my love to all. Aunt Vickie 5/19/13
