“ From the first moment that I had the pleasure to speak with your parents I knew that they were extraordinary. Such fun loving people, beautiful souls, smart, just wonderful! When I first got to meet them in person I was even more blow away. It was a true privilege to get to know them for such a brief time. I am so sorry for you loss. Thoughts and prayers to you all, my deepest sympathy, Cristina Ferraresso- Omaha Nebraska.

“ I remember your dad as President of St Marys Health Center in Jeff City. He had just started working there a couple of weeks before I did. He was a great man and a wonderful leader. He encouraged the potential in everyone and he made it a point to speak to all employees, no matter what position they were in. We grew as a hospital, as a team and as a family. No one has ever been able to live up to Steve Hunter at St. Marys. My prayers to all of you for God's healing touch in your lives as you journey onward.

I echo Jeanine's comments about Steve and the St Mary's Health Center Family. Steve and Bobbi made everyone feel comfortable around them despite the position he held. Everyone would and still talks about the Steve Hunter days at St Mary's. He was a great leader and friend.

“ We had a great class at SLU and most of our memories involved Steve and his lust for life. He will be remembered by all who knew him;; such a great tribute. So glad Les and I had the chance to call him last month. He told us he did everything in life that he wanted to do! Hope we can all say that when our time is up.

“ *Steve was our glib, high octane colleague, who had incredible intellect, high professional expectations and a drive to help others that became his vocation.
He's left us with a legacy of professional achievement & excellence, balanced with his devotion to Bobbi & all the kids.
He has imbued them with virtues & values that will enable them to have fulfilling lives, thankful for the experiences & life lessons shared.
We share the family's sadness that Steve's moments with us, here, have ended. We all look forward to seeing him again, in Paradise.*

“ From the first moment I met Steve in 1977 I knew he was full of life, more than anyone else I guess he used it up quicker than we did. We shared many good times together. He will be missed

“ From the time we met in grad school, we knew you were destined to do noble work in health care. Your intellect and self-confidence guided you in serving the communities you lived in. Best of all, you had a soft heart. Our prayers to Bobbi and you, and condolences to your family and friends.

“ *My dear friend Steve told me that there are three things he learned:
!) Nurture your family and friends or you won't have any;
2) That it is not about the work or material possessions, its about the people;
3) If you want to do something, do it now because tomorrow is not guaranteed.*

Great advice from a wise man. I feel privileged to have known him and Bobbi.

Ryan, Jeff, and Victoria, I am so sorry for your loss of an incredible father.

*Love to all of you,
Terri*
